Confessions of Rich Youths Signed Says Crowe

ADmits WORD OF WITNESSES IS ESSENTIAL

Loeb Reported to Have Bragged About Money Behind Their Case

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, June 4.—Hearing by the grand jury of evidence concerning the death of Robert Franks, school boy, was resumed today, and the return of indictments against Richard Loeb, 19, and Nathan Leopold, Jr., 19, is expected tomorrow. State's Attorney Crowe is seeking indictments on charges of kidnapping for ransom and murder against each boy.

Richard Loeb is reported to have said to Assistant State's Attorneys, "I have money; my people have money; don't you suppose we will have a smart lawyer to get us out?"

With that in mind the state is taking unusual precautions.

The state's attorney today corrected an impression that the prisoners' confession was not signed. He explained that although the stenographic notes of the confession has not been transcribed, "each page of the story was read to the boys, corrected and then signed by them."

It is expected that this confession will be read to the grand jury after the last witness has been called. Fifteen witnesses were to be called this afternoon.

Blood was found remaining on the floor of the car the boys rented the day of the murder, according to detectives.

Double guards have been placed in the county jail to watch the cells of the pair, day and night until a verdict is returned in the case. Fearful that either may attempt to carry out previously expressed suicide plans, all food brought to them is rigidly inspected and jail employees have been cautioned to prevent smuggling to them of any means of self-destruction.

The precautions were taken by jail officials after a conference with State's Attorney when the grand jury completed its first day's inquiry yesterday.

Mr. Crowe said he would not hurry the indictments against Loeb and Leopold and that every available witness would be called to testify before the grand jury. Eleven witnesses went before the jury yesterday.

Strong Legal Defense
That the defense would be made with the most brilliant attorneys in the country is considered by prosecutors because of the $5,000,000 represented by the parents of the youths. Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach representing Leopold and Loeb will be assisted by other counsel, it was said.

"All the men in the world won't save these boys," declared Michael Hughes, chief of detectives. "It's the most complete case ever gotten together. I am certain they will receive the death penalty."

Samuel A. Ettelson, former corporation counsel and friend of the father of the kidnapped boy declared, "There'll be millions to fight millions."

Mrs. Irvin Hartman, mother of Irvin Hartman, Jr., the last to see the Franks boy before his disappearance May 21, caused a sensation by declaring "I will go to California where I can raise my boy in safety."

Trace Key Youth
Investigation of possible connection of Leopold and Loeb in the shooting last fall of Freeman Louis Tracing, university student, whose body with a bullet through the head was found near the school campus has developed that the bullet killing him fits a pistol belonging to Leopold. Friends of Tracey have said he knew both youths.

Although Charles Ream, taxicab driver, victim last fall of a mutilation attack, has identified Leopold and Loeb as his assailants, authorities are skeptical until an investigation, under way, has been completed.

The slain boy's father was the first witness to appear before the grand jury. After his testimony, he expressed sorrow for the parents of the youths, but he said he would be willing to spring the trap if they were sentenced to death.

Others who testified included: Irvin Hartman, last to see Franks before he disappeared; Dr. Emil Deutsch, optician, who sold Leopold the horn rimmed glasses found near the place where the boy's body was concealed; and Sven Englund, Leopold's family chauffeur, whose had not been out of the garage on the day of the kidnapping contradicted the youths' alibi.

SHRINERS STUNT PARADE FEATURE OF MEET TODAY

Kansas City Splash of Music, Fun, Color of Big Jubilee.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Kansas City, Mo., June 4.—Music, fun and color splashed the 1924 anniversary of the Mystic Shrine today as thousands of nobles celebrated the second day of the order's golden jubilee convention.

Downtown Kansas City seethed with pleasure-seekers and a mystical host of fun-makers.

The convention throngs milled through the streets which had the appearance of oriental bazaars with their gay decorations and passing bands of gorgeously uniformed and fezzed sons of Arabia.

The imperial council held its second session today. Chief interest lies in the outer guard post election, as the other eleven posts in the Imperial Divan are filled by succession.

Seven candidates for outer guard have been mentioned. L. P. Stewart of Almas Temple, Washington, D. C., is said to be the only candidate making an active campaign for the office.

One of the most spectacular events of the entire convention will take place tonight when the shriners give their annual stunt parade.

Selection of the 1925 convention city will probably be made Thursday. It was officially announced today, Los Angeles seems certain to be the next mecca, as that city is said to be favored generally.

Daugherty Refuses to Give Testimony

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, June 4.—Former Attorney General Daugherty today notified the senate committee which has his official conduct under investigation for nearly four months that he would neither testify as a witness nor be represented further by counsel in its proceedings.

The committee had asked the former attorney general to take the witness stand Friday as the last witness before a preliminary report is submitted to the senate. No formal subpoena had been issued for him and committee members indicated they would take no steps to compel his appearance.

Paul Howland, attorney for Mr. Daugherty, read the committee a statement by his client declaring that "certain members of the committee" had made a desperate attempt to "blacken" his reputation and deny that he had "profited in any illegal, corrupt or unethical way" from his tenure of office.

Cold Weather Has Put Crops Fortnight Behind

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., June 4.—Cold weather has placed Illinois crops two weeks behind their normal growth and from seven to ten days behind their condition at this time last year, according to the weather and crop report for the week ending June 3, issued by Clarence Root, meteorologist here today.

"Rain fall has been deficient in the northwest part of the state where meadows are short and corn needs moisture," the report said. "In the central and southern sections, there was enough precipitation to stop field work. Corn has made slow growth. It is coming up in the north. There is planting to do in the central and south portions with much replanting being done in the north and considerable in the central counties. Winter wheat varies in condition from mostly good in the northern areas to mostly poor in the south. It is heading in the north. It is fair to good condition, but the growth is slow. They are short in numerous areas in the north. It has been too cold and wet for cotton."

Four Japs Suicide in Protest of Exclusion

Tokio, June 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Provincial correspondents of the vernacular newspapers here report four cases of suicide carried out in emulation of the Japanese who slew himself May 31 in protest against American exclusion of Japanese immigrants.

In at least three of the four cases, however, the attributed motive of anti-Americanism is unsubstantiated.

Communication with each other.

Young Loeb more readily familiarized himself with the other inmates of the jail. While the boy, a college graduate at 18, taught a young negro highwayman the alphabet, Leopold sat alone.

A search which may cause the inspection of the Leopold home, is under way for a pair of field glasses, believed to have been used by the youths in watching their potential victims.

E. SECOND ST. AS BLACK HAWK TRAIL IS URGED

Council Starts Move to Eliminate Dangerous Galena Ave. Corner.

Handling of traffic entering and leaving Dixon over the Black Hawk Trail which is now under construction east of the city, was the subject of considerable discussion at last evening's regular session of the city council. Commissioner Charles E. Miller declared that with the traffic being routed over River street from the foot of Galena avenue the corner would become a "suicide corner" and would be the most dangerous in the city.

The entire council favored a plan of routing the traffic over East Second street to its intersection with Ravine avenue, thence northeasterly to and adjoining the River road or Black Hawk Trail at the east city limits.

With a view of developing this plan, City Attorney E. E. Wingert is instructed by the council to make a canvass of the situation at once. The plan as outlined, is to vacate Ravine avenue from the end of the brick paving on Second street and also that section of cement paved highway on the River Road, which would be paved by the state and become a part of the Black Hawk Trail. Immediate action was urged by the council.

The regular monthly bills against the city amounting to $5200 were read and ordered paid.

A petition signed by W. H. and Florence Winn seeking to have part of the property owned by them disconnected from the city, was read. An ordinance providing for the exclusion of the property which is on the Chicago Road was passed.

Three bids were submitted to the council for the proposed storm drain sewer on Peoria avenue and Fourth street, the contract being awarded to Howard L. Wheeler.

The board of local improvements passed the resolution originating a scheme providing for the construction of the west end sewer, the hearing being set for June 24. Attorney John J. Armstrong was named commissioner to spread the assessment.

Shenandoah Returns to Hangar Thru Fog

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Lakehurst, N. J., June 4.—The Shenandoah, giant navy dirigible, broke through a heavy bank of fog this morning and returned to its base almost 24 hours after beginning a 1,000 mile trip over three states during which it crossed the Canadian border at Niagara Falls. During the last few hours of the cruise the dirigible hovered in a dense fog over its home port guided only by radio messages and sirens on the field. Commander Zachary Lansdowne, U. S. N., commanded the ship.

The flight was over New Jersey cities from Lakehurst to New York, thence up the Hudson to Albany, westward to Buffalo and Niagara Falls and back over Pennsylvania.

The ship was unaccounted for an hour and a half early this morning when radio messages were not received from her.

The Shenandoah arrived at Albany at noon yesterday, where her presence was a feature of the city's tercentenary celebration.

Mrs. Margaret White Died Early this Morning

Mrs. Margaret White passed away at 5 o'clock this morning at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lehman, 113 Belmont avenue, where, with her mother, she had been visiting for several days. Mrs. White had been in bad health for some time and the end was not unexpected. The remains were taken to Mendota this afternoon and from that place will be sent to Kansas City, Mo., her former home, where burial will take place.

Walsh to Boss Dem.

Washington, June 4.—Strong indications were apparent in democratic circles here today that Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana probably would be selected as temporary chairman of the party's national convention in New York.

Some democratic leaders in congress said the question of Senator Walsh's selection had virtually been settled. The Montana senator declined to comment.

Sterling Voters Are for Sunday Theaters

(Telegraph Special Service)
Sterling, Ill., June 4.—Voters of Sterling by a majority of 276 yesterday expressed themselves in favor of a change in the city ordinance to permit theaters in the city to operate on Sunday. The vote was 2046 for the proposed change and 1770 against it. Five years ago the vote against shows was also 1770 while but 1272 voters favored Sunday shows.

It was rumored here today that opponents of the Sunday shows would confer with attorneys with a view of contesting the election if possible, by attacking the validity of the petition on which the city council called it.

Circulation Men Meet.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Louisville, Ky., June 4.—Delegates to the 26th annual convention of the International Circulation Managers Association, in session here, spent today afloat business, sessions being held on a river steamer. The vessel carried the delegates and their wives to an island in the Ohio river where a picnic luncheon was served. The annual banquet will be held tonight.

Newspaper circulation brought about by schemes and clever ideas usually is unhealthy and a menace, Stanley Clague, managing director of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, Chicago, told members of the association in an address at the opening day of the convention yesterday.

"This type of circulation," Mr. Clague said, "is to the newspaper as opiate is to the body. Once begun larger and more frequent doses are required."

LEGISLATIVE CONGESTION'S HIT CONGRESS

Various Blocs Line Up to Prevent Business Being Transacted.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 4.—Agreement was reached today by senators interested in the Muscle Shoals fight to postpone consideration of the question until the next session of congress.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 4.—Congress, with adjournment set for Saturday night, suffered today from acute legislative congestion.

The senate side was the more affected of the two, one group headed by Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama being determined to get a vote on the Muscle Shoals question, and another, led by Senator La Follette, republican insurgent, Wisconsin, being on record as opposing any action not designed for the relief of agriculture.

In the house the chief tasks centered about farm relief and the reclamation bill reported yesterday by the irrigation committee.

While farm bloc members speeded up preparation of a compromise measure for the McNary-Haugen bill, eliminated yesterday, supporters of the reclamation plan moved for its quick disposal through suspension of the rules in both chambers to permit action on it as an amendment to the pending deficiency bill providing funds for operation of the bonus law.

This program, which would bar amendments, limits debates to forty minutes and requires a two-thirds majority, was said to have the approval of the leaders of both parties.

Indications were given last night, that many senators had not given up hope of action on numerous local bills regarded as "unobjectionable."

The omnibus pension bill, embodying more than 100 private measures, had right of way today in the senate.

Board Decides Bolt Struck Big Gas Bag

Rantoul, Ill., June 4.—A board of inquiry composed of Lieutenants McKee of Scott Field and Eller and Smith of Chanute Field here, decided that lightning struck the balloon in which Dr. C. Le Roy Meisner and Pilot James T. Neely had ascended from Scott Field, Belleville, Illinois, to make storm observations. Acting Commandant Ralph Cousins of Chanute Field, announced today. Their service will be sent to the army air school at Washington. The wrecked balloon and the bodies were found near Monticello, Illinois yesterday.

"They went up about 11:15 Monday night to make storm observations and they may have been as high as 5,000 feet," Acting Commandant Cousins said. "I understood the inquiry has been completed and the bodies will be sent to Scott Field."

It had first been planned to send the bodies to the dirigible T-C-3, but this plan was abandoned.

Bandits Rob Railway Agent at Rochelle

Rochelle.—Three bandits held up George Goyen, telegraph operator for the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad at the local station early Sunday morning, robbing the safe of $100.

When commanded to open the safe by one of the bandits, Goyen said that he did not know the combination but when they said they would kill him, he complied with their request. It is believed that the robbers drove to Chicago over the Lincoln highway. Deputies hunted the country roads for them but were unable to find any trace of the trio.

Goyen was making a monthly report in the office when the three bandits entered. They commanded him to hold up his hands and then forced him into a wash room. After he had opened up the safe for them, locked Goyen in a wash room and escaped without being detected. Passengers, waiting for a train, were unaware of the robbery until they heard Goyen's cries for help.

McAdoo Leads in Florida.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jacksonville, Fla., June 4.—With less than one-tenth of the total of 1,104 precincts heard from today William C. McAdoo continued to lead Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Florida's endorsement for the presidential nomination in yesterday's state-wide primary.

Incomplete, unofficial returns from 100 precincts gave: McAdoo 5,137; Underwood 2,792. Political observers were inclined to the belief that they were not sufficiently complete to place the result beyond doubt.

Henry Ford and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor received one vote each in the presidential preference contest.

Votes for delegates at large had not been tabulated late last night.

FREEPORT PLAIN-CLOTHES OFFICER STABBED IN BACK

But Took Negro Prisoner to Jail Before He Collapsed.

Freeport.—After he had arrested L. A. Sanders, a negro, on a charge of bootlegging and was taking his prisoner to the city jail, Officer William Jogerst, a plain clothes man of the city police department, was stabbed in the back and seriously wounded Monday evening. Sanders, after stabbing the officer, made a break for liberty, but was captured within a few moments by a couple of citizens, who gave chase. Following the stabbing, Officer Jogerst started after Sanders, firing two shots, one of which hit the colored fellow on the left hand. The bullet pierced the index finger of the hand and slightly injured the middle finger, but the negro was not badly hurt. Despite the fact that he suffered greatly from the wound Officer Jogerst followed Sanders until he was captured and then placed his hands on the assailant and marched him to the police station. When Sanders refused to be searched at the station, Jogerst, single handed, made the big colored fellow submit to a search and the officer then collapsed and was rushed to St. Francis hospital.

Fearful Lung Punctured.
On examination it was discovered that the blade of the knife had penetrated about four inches and it was at first feared that the officer's left lung had been pierced, he having been stabbed in the left side of the back, directly opposite the heart. The attending physician stated it would be a matter of about twenty-four hours before the outcome of Mr. Jogerst's condition could be foretold. He suffered from hemorrhages and shock. The hole in the officer's back was about the size of the end of a small finger but the knife, apparently, had been turned and twisted by the negro after he plunged it into the back of Mr. Jogerst and the internal wound was much larger than the external wound.

$1,500 Robbery at Creston Last Night

Creston, June 4.—The general store of R. E. Bowles at Creston was robbed during the early morning hours, entrance being made through the front door, under the arc light. The robbers rifled the store of shirts, fine silk hosiery, shoes, taking fifty-six pair of the last named merchandise, the goods taken being valued at about $1,500.

They took the best of the stock, showing a nice discrimination in barber shop.

This robbery occurred one year and two days later than the robbery of the same store in 1923.

The robbers also entered the Jarvis

HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT TO BE ENTIRELY REBUILT WITH GREATLY INCREASED OUTPUT

Improvement Will Beautify River Bank—New Plant to Have Capacity of 10,000,000 Kilowatts Hours a Year

Vice President E. D. Alexander of the Illinois Northern Utilities company this morning announced an improvement to be made in Dixon which will represent an expenditure of more than a half million dollars, work to be started not later than June 20th. Through negotiation completed between Reynolds Wire company and the Illinois Northern Utilities company the improvement has been made possible and will result in an electrical development on Rock river at Dixon which will be operated and controlled by the Utilities company over a long period of years. The development when completed will represent one of the largest and most modern in the middle west and through the arrangement with the Reynolds Wire company, will place Dixon as one of the foremost cities in the middle west in the development of electrical energy.

The present Reynolds Wire company's hydro plant, near the foot of Ottawa avenue, and the Illinois Northern Utilities company's hydro plant at the foot of Crawford avenue, are to be torn out and completely dismantled. A modern fire-proof building, 240 feet in length by 40 feet in width and 40 feet high, facing the Galena avenue bridge, will replace the present structures. The section of land lying west of the mill race at the foot of Ottawa avenue is to be filled to a street level with a stone wall facing the river and this will be used as a public park.

To Remove Boat Houses.

Above the proposed improvement all of the boat houses and shacks which have been an eye sore to Dixon for many years, will be removed as far east as Dement avenue. During the construction period this ground will be used as a railroad siding and for the storage of materials. Upon completion of the plant, a fill will be made and a public boat landing built. Notices have been served for several days upon owners of boat houses and boats to vacate the space, many of whom have already complied.

The plans call for a section in the present dam which will be utilized for the purpose of mechanically raising and lowering boats passing up and down Rock river. This feature alone will answer a long felt want in Dixon among lovers of launching and boating. The entire plant when completed will be illuminated at night with a system of flood lights, making it a beauty spot in the place of one which has not been altogether inviting for some time past.

Great Electric Plant.

The main building will house five 750 kilowatt volt ampere electric generators with a capacity of 3,750 kilowatt volt amperes, or 50 per cent greater power than the present hydro plant at Sterling. The Reynolds Wire company, through whom the improvement has largely been possible, will receive one-seventh of the electrical output without operating cost. The agreement between the two companies was made a few weeks ago and the Reynolds company are to be highly commended for the spirit of co-operation which has been shown in order to make this extensive improvement possible. The estimated cost of the improvement is $616,000 and will have an estimated output of ten million kilowatt hours per year.

Three of the units are to be installed by January 1, 1925, under a penalty premium clause contained in the contract. Bids for the work have been opened and the contract will be let at the office of Vice President E. D. Alexander in this city Friday afternoon.

Almost a score of bids have been received on the construction and electrical installation work from some of the largest marine and electrical contractors in the country, whose representatives will be in Dixon on Friday.

Much Rebuilding.

The old stone walls which have stood for many years, formerly supporting the old grinding mill and now only landmarks, a portion of the dam and all of the masonry and concrete work with buildings and turbines are to be torn out. In all, 25,000 cubic yards of rock are to be removed and it is quite probable that much of this will be used in erecting a stone wall on the north side of the river between the dam and the Galena avenue bridge by the park road.

The new building will be equipped in such a manner as to accommodate visitors. The improvement represents the largest single one made by the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

MANY IMPORTANT CASES ARE BEFORE SUPREME JUSTICES

Term of High Court is Replete with Actions of Much Interest.

Springfield.—(By the Associated Press)—Liability of a trade union for damages during acts of its members while on strike; liability of an Illinois railroad "yes war"; constitutionality of the consolidated school district law; and the "poison house" cases resulting from death of five residents of Pana, are all due for decisions at the June term of the Supreme court which opened here Tuesday.

There are 306 cases on the docket, 124 of them awaiting decisions and 33 on application for rehearing. There are 27 criminal and 64 civil cases ready for oral argument, and 58 certain cases.

An Illinois precedent will be set by the court in acting on the question of a trade union's liability for damages. This case was appealed from a decision of Circuit Judge Edwards of Lake county, who ruled that defendant members of the Plumbers, Gas & Steam Fitters Local Union 93, the United Association of Plumbers and Steam Fitters and Helpers No. 769, "cannot be sued in their association names." John J. Cahill, contractor, brought the original suit for $2500 damages for loss of profits resulting from delays and interruptions occasioned by strikes of union employees who demanded a "closed shop."

Mortgage holders of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad expect a decision on their request for modification of the Supreme court's previous decision that the road must be sold in its entirety and not by piecemeal. They have requested that the case be referred back to the Sangamon county circuit court for loss of testimony, in the belief that they can present evidence to show that the road cannot be operated at a profit. The Attorney General is represented in this case on behalf of the patrons of the road.

Determination of the governor's authority to issue pardons in "contempt of court" cases, is expected in the cases of the People vs. Ben Newmark and Michael Boyle. Called as witnesses in the investigation of alleged jury bribery in the case against Governor Small, both Newmark and Boyle refused to answer questions on the grounds that it might incriminate them. They were sentenced to six months imprisonment and fined $100. Pardons were thereupon extended them by Governor Small who declared them "victims of political persecution."

Another contempt of court case to be decided is that of The People vs. Milton G. Severinghaus, who is under sentence to serve 90 days in Cook county jail. While President of the Chicago school board in 1922, Severinghaus was quoted in newspapers as saying that he intended to sue each of the 23 members of the grand jury, and witnesses, who had started investigation of alleged school board irregularities. He was consequently charged by Circuit Judge McKinley with attempting to intimidate the grand jury, in contempt of the court.

Attack on School Law.—The Illinois deep waterway case may reach a decision. The state department of public works and buildings tentatively condemned 33 acres of land near Starved Rock on the Illinois river to further the waterway project, and owners of the land appealed. When the case was first brought up to the Supreme court, Attorney General Bradshaw announced that the state's program of waterway development depended upon success of the condemnation proceedings.

Attacks on the validity of the consolidated school district law, enacted by the 53rd General Assembly, are expected to draw decisions. County Superintendent of Schools Lukanbill of Logan county, and the County Superintendent of Logan county opposed the law in that it conferred "discretionary" or legislative powers on county superintendents, in arbitrarily changing boundary lines of districts.

The "Dunlap School bill of the last legislature, also attacked in the St. Joseph Community high school case from Champaign county, was described as unconstitutional in that it gave "discretionary, arbitrary and legislative powers" to circuit judges. A decision in this case is expected.

Rock Island Cases.—Rock Island's "vice war" will be Mayor Harry M. Schriver, former Chief of Police Thomas Cox and Lawrence Pedigo, have appealed from convictions of conspiracy to deal in gambling devices or punch boards. During their trial it was alleged that they were connected with John P. Looney in the publication of the "Rock Island News," which was suppressed. Looney is under arrest, awaiting trial. Former City Attorney John K. Scott, indicted in this same case entered a plea of guilty and was fined $2000. Later at his own request the supreme court disbarred him from the practice of law in Illinois.

Conviction of Anthony W. Billburg for the murder of John C. Looney, a son of John P. Looney is also due a decision on appeal. He was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment. The Attorney General took a hand in prosecuting the case, and one of the complaints of the defendant is that actions of the grand jury which indicted him were directed by the attorney general and the state's attorney and his whole staff were excluded.

County Health Unit Campaign.—The establishment of full time, efficiently manned county health departments in Illinois is the chief object of a new campaign to be launched by the state department of public health, according to an announcement by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, director of the department. In this movement the state will have definite active support and co-operation from the federal government and possibly from one other national agency.

Dr. Thomas Parran, of the U. S. Public Health Service, an expert on county health department organization, is already in Illinois assigned for duty under the direction of the state department of public health. He will spend his entire time during the next few months in presenting the county health unit proposition to interested local officials. Staff members from the department will be available for the same purpose where occasions justify.

Federal funds for subsidizing a limited number of county health units that may be formed under Dr. Parran's direction are now available. This will make it easy for counties that so desire to immediately organize first class health departments.

"The outstanding public health need in Illinois today is the establishment of well organized county health departments," Rawlings. "The federal government has made it possible for a partment of health to take advantage of the opportunity to create health departments in the near future. An expert from Washington has arrived and will be available for presenting the county health unit proposition to local officials and for rendering service in connection with organization. Communication from local sources relative to the whole proposition will be encouraged."

Says Old King Tut Was Land Speculator.—King Tutankham was a real estate speculator, and Abraham was forced to pay 40 times what land was worth in order to obtain a burying place for his wife, Professor D. D. Luckenbill of the University of Chicago told the National association of Real Estate Boards here today in describing real estate deals 5,000 years ago.

"Ancient Babylonian and Egyptian civilization endured just as long as the common man owned real estate," Dr. Luckenbill said in drawing a moral from his baked clay records of civilization thousands of years ago. "In the Persian period the taxes rose so high that the small landholder was compelled to borrow yearly from the banker to meet his tax bill and put in a new crop. Soon we find them leasing their farms to the banking firms for 55-year periods. In other words they gave up the struggle. The story is the same for ancient Egypt, ancient Greece and ancient Rome. It may be the same for the United States."

"Mortgages and rent are as old as the oldest form of records. They were written on clay tablets in tiny rows of wedge-shaped characters in a time that ante-dated King Tut's."

reign as much as he ante-dates the modern realtor."

After quoting from Genesis the portion that relates to the death of Sarah, Abraham's wife, in the land of Canaan, the children of Hath, and Abraham's purchase, for 400 shekels of silver, of a burying place for her, Dr. Luckenbill said that Abraham was overcharged because he was in a strange land.

"From a study of hundreds of ancient real estate transactions I am able to tell you," he said, "that Abraham paid from 40 to 50 times as much as the land was worth."

"King Tut" probably kept a thrifty eye open for bargains in choice suburban lots overlooking the Nile, negotiated 50 year or longer leases on something besides his famous tomb, and drew plans for new subdivisions with "quality homes at moderate prices." Even if he did not, his brother monarchs of Sumeria, Hammurabi and Babylon did. Luncheon Yesterday Delightful Affair

One of the most inspiring and delightful social events of the early summer was the luncheon given yesterday at noon by Mrs. Frank Rink and Miss Clara Rink at the William Rink home for the "the sweet girl graduates" of the south side high school, forty being in attendance.
Miss Sara Elizabeth Rink, one of the graduates, greeted the guests at the door and presented each one with a beautiful corsage bouquet in "blue and gold," the class colors.
The elegant luncheon was cafeteria style, Mrs. Van Inwagen of Council Bluffs, Iowa, presiding at the table where the chocolate was poured. The rooms presented the appearance of a delicately tinted flower garden, the girls in their pastel colored gowns, making a charming picture. The dining room was attractively decorated with yellow iris and ferns, and the other rooms of the home with lovely mauve, pink and yellow blossoms.
In the interval after luncheon, much merriment was derived from the "memory books" and the contents of the books were enlarged with reports of yesterday's happy event. Pictures were taken in the rose garden, under the rose arch, the girls looking much a bevy of butterflies, as they clustered in groups for the pictures.
It proved to be a most enjoyable and memorable occasion for all present.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Cleaning Gloves.
A good way to clean kid gloves is to put them in a Mason jar of gasoline and allow them to soak, shaking the jar occasionally. When they seem to be clean rinse in a jar of clean gasoline.

Use Damp Duster.
Picture frames are best dusted with a slightly dampened duster and if they are carved it is well to use a small, flexible paint brush.

Don't Sprinkle Silk.
Silk garments should be ironed while damp, but not sprinkled. Sprinkling gives it a spotted appearance.

After disappearing a week ago, Ira Schnee, of Lanark, appeared at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Brick, West street road, explaining that he had spent the interval at Morrison, Ill., seeing men with whom he had dealings in thoroughbred hogs. He returned to his home at Lanark Monday.

Several men had been at his home on the night before his disappearance to complete the arrangements for the new road. The following morning he set out on foot and was not heard from during the week. GANNON EXPLAINS CHANGES IN TAX UNDER NEW LAW

Payable 1924"
The Revenue Act of 1924 provides a reduction of 25 percent on income taxes paid for the year 1923, and any taxpayer making return for the calendar year 1923 of the taxes imposed by parts 1 and 2 of Title 2 of the Revenue Act of 1921 shall be entitled to an allowance by claim or refund of 25 percent of the amount shown as the tax upon his return.
If the amount shown as the tax has been paid in full on or before the time of the enactment of the Act of 1924, the amount of the allowance provided in above subdivision shall be credited for refunded as provided in Section 281 of this Act. Section 281 of the Revenue Act of 1921 is titled "Credit and Refunds" and the amount of any overpayment of taxes can be credited against any income, war profits or excise profits tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer and any balance of such excess shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer. This means that any taxpayer who has paid income tax for the calendar year 1923 and has paid the tax in full, must file a claim for refund on forms furnished by the government, which can be secured at the office of M. J. Gannon.

If the taxpayer has elected to pay the tax in installments and, at the time of the enactment of this Act, the date prescribed for the payment of the last installment has not yet arrived, the amount of the allowance provided shall be prorated to the four installments. The amount so pro rated to any installment, the date for payment of which has not arrived, shall be applied in reduction of such installment the amount so pro rated to any installment. The date for payment of which has arrived shall be credited against the installment next falling due after the enactment of the Act. If a taxpayer does not desire to have the remaining installments pro rated he may pay the installments in full, which become due June 15th and Sept. 15th, respectively, and then ask for credit for his last installment which becomes due Dec. 15, 1924.

In any event at least one-half of the amount of the tax due for the period of 1923, after deducting the 25 percent allowed by law, must be paid on or before June 15th, 1924. For example—If the taxpayer had a tax of $100 and paid $25 or ¼ of it in March, 1924, and then taking his 25 percent deduction would leave a balance due the government of $50. Therefore he must pay at least, on or before June 15, 1924, $12.50 and then there would be remaining $37.50 which would be due September 15th and $18.75 which would be due December 15th, making a total of $75.00 paid.

UNDER HATS OF BROAD BRIMS.

The Quakers have been celebrating the 300th anniversary of the birth of George Fox, founder of their belief. There are 116,000 of them in the United States. Though known as the Quakers their real name is the Society of Friends.

Here is a powerful and unique organization. For nearly three centuries it has fought war and championed simplicity truth, honesty and democracy.

Among the great men they have produced were Benjamin Franklin, William Penn and John Greenleaf Whittier. And the longer we study them and watch their record and way of living, the more we're inclined to believe that every Quaker is a great man.

You never knew a Quaker that wasn't a good citizen.

George Fox, founder of the Quakers, went to prison many times for daring to speak his religious belief. Like all great men, he had what are usually considered eccentricities. One of these was a notion that it was an act of worship to take off one's hat to another person. This was symbolic of a belief that reverence belonged exclusively to the Almighty.

Fox traveled as a missionary, spreading his views. Steadily he won followers. The first Quakers who landed in New York were beaten and deported. Four of them were put to death in Boston by the Puritans, who are supposed to have stood for religious tolerance. Finally they founded their own settlement—Philadelphia.

The Quakers are the oldest peace organization we have. From Fox who refused a captaincy in Cromwell's army and pilloried war in all its hideousness, on through nearly three centuries, the Quakers have consistently opposed the wholesale taking of human life to untangle the blunders of the politicians flatteringly known as diplomats.

There have been individual exceptions. Many Quakers willingly entered the American army to fight Prussianism. But their big battle came after the war—against famine and disease in Europe. This battle is still being continued. So far, the Quakers have expended over 10 million dollars in European relief.

They may not take their hats off to us, but we take our hats off to them—as good citizens, none better.

GLASS COMPETITION.

Another competitor with American window glass bids fair to take the field. It is the new state of Czechoslovakia where substantial improvements in most branches of the glass industry have resulted in a considerable increase in operations in the principal mills. Plate and window glass, hollow glass and bottles have shown particular improvement. Increased orders for export have been largely responsible for the improvement.

Imports of glassware into the United States during 1923 totaled $21,380,000 in value, the largest item being unsilvered plate glass, 26,260,000 square feet worth $16,047,000. The increased duty on this commodity does not appear to have restricted it materially, for in 1922 (the tariff was in effect from September 22) we imported less than 11,000,000 square feet, worth $5,090,000. The total imports of glassware that year came to $15,413,000. The Czechos appear to thrive on the American tariff, and so do the Belgians, for years our chief competitors.

LEADER.

The big telephone company will put 150 million dollars worth of additional stock on the market. This will give it a total of about 900 million dollars worth of stock, passing even U. S. Steel and making it the world's leader among corporations in the matter of stock capitalization.

LOCAL HISTORY.

A Kansas citizen recently wrote to his newspaper to complain of the fact that fifty students in a class at the state university were wholly ignorant of a matter of local history. Kansas, it seems, once had a loyal and far-sighted citizen who devoted many years of effort to planting elm trees in the open spaces which are now Topeka. The trees did not grow easily and many fellow-citizens ridiculed the idea that they ever would grow there. Today many of the streets of that city are embowered with elms and they are even to be found on the edges of the prairie lands outside the town.

In some ways this is a small matter to call history and to expect college students to be familiar with. Yet ignorance of this tree-planter's labor of love and vision is deplorable because it is indicative of a like ignorance of many more important things of national as well as local history.

The erection of monuments to all the citizens who have contributed to a community's upbuilding is of course foolish and extreme. But a knowledge of the facts of a community's growth is very desirable. Too many thriving, up-to-date towns, are wholly unaware of the truly inspiring traditions and historical facts of their origin and development. Why not go in for a short course on local history?

CRIME.

If prohibition has reduced crime, the bankers haven't heard about it. Robberies and other crimes against banks have "risen to heights heretofore unknown." So reports J. E. Baum, manager of the protective department of American Bankers Association.

A factory gets a lot of orders. In filling them, it generates business for railroads, makers of materials, power companies, coal mines, not to mention that machinery keeps wearing out and has to be replaced. Industrially we are as dependent on each other as the tiny fossils which, clustered in millions, make up a coral reef.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 21—WHAT THE RADIO DID

Whewee! Whirr! went the big horn.

All the Green Woods people were dressed up in their Sunday best at Mister Coon's party.

It was a most fashionable party, and Nancy and Nick and the little fairymen were proud of the coon gentleman and his new radio set.

Oh, yes, it was Mister Coon's new radio set that the party was about. Everybody had come to hear a concert.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said Mister Coon importantly, getting up in the middle of the floor where a little square box with a big horn was sitting on a table. "I will now tune in. We shall hear a concert that is going on in New York."

Everybody clapped and Mister Coon bowed and then he pushed in some knobs and pulled out some knobs and turned a thingamajigger.

Whewee! Whirr! Squeeee—eee—eee—rattle—rattle—rattle! went the big horn, or rather, they were the sounds that came out of it.

"My!" said Mrs. Muskrat to Mrs. Groundhog. "They do have queer voices in New York, don't they, Mrs. Groundhog?"

"It isn't just right yet," said Mister Coon. "The air isn't right."

"No, I'd say it wasn't exactly right," grinned Mister Bunny nudging Old Daddy Cracknuts. "I've heard a good many airs but none exactly like that."

Mr. Coon pulled out some more knobs and pushed in some other knobs and the little lights went blink, and suddenly there was a shriek like the 9 o'clock curfew whistle.

"Oh, oh, oh!" shrieked the Green Wood ladies, covering up their ears. "That must be Grand Opera! Such loud singing makes us deaf. Do they always sing that way in New York, Mister Coon?"

Thank Boy Scouts for Aid on Memorial Day

A vote of thanks and appreciation to the Boy Scouts of Dixon, under the leadership of Rev. George C. Story, has been extended by Mrs. Paul Brookner of the Women's Relief Corps for their able assistance on Memorial Day of last week. The scouts were of material aid in gathering flowers which they took to the court house, and at Oakwood cemetery, they were again helpful in assisting with the decoration of graves and in many other ways.

The city of Dixon appreciates and respects its Boy Scout troops and their many deeds of helpfulness are worthy of commendation. This organization has slowly, but gradually grown in Dixon in the past few years and is deserving of the support and recognition of every citizen.

Hints that Dr. Butler is Guilty of Treason

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee, Wis., June 4.—"Any man who says that the Volstead Act cannot be enforced is uttering treason," said Fred B. Smith of New York City, chairman of the citizens committee of one thousand for law enforcement, who was the principal speaker last night at the closing session of the Northern Baptist convention. He attacked Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, stating that he stands alone among college presidents in his conviction that prohibition cannot be successful.

"The good name of our country is involved in the attack on the 18th amendment," he said.

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

LETTER FROM MARY ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO MRS. LESLIE
PRESCOTT

MY DEAR DAUGHTER:

I hope you will not think me selfish when I tell you that I shall be glad to see you when you return, and I know that Jack misses you very, very much. However, he has been very busy since you have been away. He has not had time to have dinner with me but three times, but he has always made quite a party of it—once he invited the minister to dine with us and twice your friends, Mrs. Ellington and Mrs. Atherton. I like your lady friends very much, particularly Mrs. Atherton, who at first rather shocked me by appearing so soon after her husband's death in a hat with pink roses on it. However, during the course of the evening she remarked that a business woman had no right to indulge in great grief or great joy to the detriment of her work, and either one of these would be noticed by the stranger who came into the office where she worked daily. I knew immediately that she didn't wear mourning on that account, although I couldn't just realize how she would make her great happiness visible to strangers.

I'm wearing the beautiful caps that Mrs. Ellington had made for me. The other day Miss Anderson and I went down to the lingerie shop. I didn't know that good women wore such delicate and expensive underwear. I rather wondered, as Miss Anderson held up an indescribable garment which she called a teddybear, made of chiffon, what my mother would have said had she seen it—my mother, who always insisted upon us wearing red flannel underclothes in the winter. I know that she would have said that there was something wrong with the mind of a woman who would wear transparent underclothes, and I have the same feeling.

Neither Miss Anderson nor Mrs. Ellington seemed to think anything about it, so I didn't make any remarks; but to you, my dear daughter, I can unburden myself, because when you were at my house, I noticed that although your underwear was of the finest of linen and batiste, and made with the utmost care by hand, its laces and embroideries perhaps more expensive than I had been accustomed to, there were no colored chiffons among them.

It may be a modern idiosyncrasy, my dear, but I am glad you haven't. By the way, I think I have found a place where that secret drawer might be concealed. At least I have found a place on the outside of the desk that doesn't seem to be filled by a corresponding receptacle on the inside. When you come home I will show it to you and we can open it together if we find I am right.

Little John Alden Jr. is wonderful. He knows his grandmother already and reaches out his tiny arms to me whenever I come near. He shows signs of trying to walk. I think he will walk and talk very soon.

Lovingly your mother,
MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

Father of Dixon Man

Died Monday Evening

S. M. Grove, a resident of Rock Falls for the past thirty years, succumbed at his home there at five o'clock Monday afternoon, following a year's illness. Death was caused from a complication of diseases. Had Mr. Grove lived a few weeks longer, he would have been 65 years old.

He is survived by his widow, and three children, Mrs. Otis Kline of Chicago, Mrs. Percy Simester of Rock Falls and Paul Grove of Dixon. He also has three brothers, Wallace of Oregon and Louis and Murray of Chambersburg, Pa.

LADIES! DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

His Last Invention

Was Suicide Machine

New York, June 3.—The last invention of Carl Dornfield, inventor, was a suicide machine. Retiring, he placed one end of a gas tube in his mouth and the other on a closed gas jet. An alarm clock was placed beside the bed and connected with the alarm trigger with a steel spring, which also was hooked to the gas jet. The alarm bell was taken off. When the alarm trigger was released, the gas was turned on by the steel spring and Dornfield never awakened.

SPORT NEWS

IF GIANTS ARE TO BE BEATEN IT'S UP
TO WESTERN TEAMSCubs Open Hectic Series with New York This Afternoon.

If John McGraw is to be shut out of his fourth consecutive pennant in the National League the task apparently will devolve upon the western clubs, the first of which, Chicago, appeared at the Polo Grounds today.

In the last east-west clash, the Giants won only six of 15 games. New York nevertheless today leads the league by three games, by virtue of 22 victories in 28 games with eastern teams.

New York took two games from Brooklyn yesterday 9-2 and 3-2. McGraw's pitching staff performed in unusual style as Neph and Bentley each finished a full game.

Fourier, National League home run leader, increased his total to 11. Jackson, Bailey and High also made homers.

Mitchell of the Phillies held the Cardinals to two hits and won 6-0. Sand hit a homer in the game.

Zachary Stops Tigers.
Zachary, veteran Washington pitcher, interrupted the Detroit drive with a 11 to 1 defeat in which Hainey's two singles represented the Tiger total.

Cole was driven from the box. Eppa Rixey finally rounding into form held Boston to five hits as the Reds won five to one.

Pennock started the Yanks' trip through the west with a 6-3 victory over the White Sox.

The Red Sox kept pace a half game behind the world's champions by beating St. Louis 8-7. Shocker was driving on from the box early. Boone and Harris of the Red Sox and Sisler of the Browns hit homers.

Red Faber, ace of the White Sox pitching staff, who had a splintered bone removed from his pitching staff, who had a splintered bone removed from his pitching arm several weeks ago, is out in uniform again and expects to get back into action soon.

Johnson Going Well.
Ernie Johnson, who formerly was with the White Sox, is holding down the second base position for the Yanks and is making a good job of it, hitting consistently and fielding in a high class manner.

Lee Pohl, former manager of the Browns, now pilot of the Red Sox, took his team to St. Louis yesterday and after being presented with a diamond ring by friends, turned his club loose on Urban Shocker, drove him off the hill and won the first game of the series 8-7.

Rube Mahngreen, Waterloo pitcher, twirling his second professional game, shut out Moline of the Mississippi Valley League without a hit, only two of his opponents reaching second base. He walked two and struck out six.

LIBRARY NOTES

TOLD BY AN IDIOT.

Do you consider yourself an "ultramodern"? If so, don't allow yourself to become interested in Rose Macauley's "Told by an Idiot"—it might hurt your pride. But if you are possessed of a sense of humor, by all means pick up this delightful book and prepare for an enjoyable evening.

The author of "Told by an Idiot"

does a wonderful thing when she accomplishes a Forsyte Saga in a manner and altogether more pleasant than that of Mr. Galsworthy himself.

The story, which begins in the latter part of the nineteenth century when ping-pong, instead of mah jong, was the rage, follows the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Garden—better known throughout the book as papa and mama—and their six children. Life to Aubrey Garden was a glorious spiritual adventure in which he wandered down all possible avenues of religion, from Catholicism to Ethicism and back to Catholicism.

Yes, Mr. Garden was a broad-minded soul; in fact, his broad-mindedness (according to his eldest daughter, Victoria) really amounted to a disease.

The children, not being blessed with their father's passion for religion, were perfectly normal human beings

—expressing distaste for matrimony but finally marrying and becoming parents that run true to form.

It is indeed a revelation to some of us to know that even as far back as 1880 there lived what were known as "modern girls," that mothers wondering if girls had always been "new";

and that means, even in those days,

"differed from other women in being very seldom new." What can be more passing than a "modern" of ten years ago?

"In ten years," says Miss Macauley, "the public will be saying of our present moderns, 'They are safe. They are vieux jeu. They resemble cathedrals.'" We must agree that "dashing girls will always dash whatever bites them."

When life, seen by the reader in a box set loses its tragic aspect, it becomes amusing and significant of nothing.

"Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player."

That struts and frets his hour upon the stage.

And then is heard no more; it is a tale.

Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,

Signifying nothing."

Although this book may not be considered one of the tremendous books of the season, it is written in a style

Radiographs

Little things like picking out a wife, selecting an automobile, or buying a new house, are a cinch compared with deciding which radio set to buy or build.

The multiplicity of types of receiving sets available, the extravagant claims made for many of them, and the inability of a large section of the public to select good sets or parts, make the layman's choice of a set a real problem. Often the selection is just a gamble.

Yet no one ever need gamble on such an important matter. The purpose of this article is to list and explain ten points that should be considered before purchasing or building a set.

They constitute a sort of Ten Commandments of Radio.

It is owing to the large number of types of receivers on the market that the layman finds it hard to choose one which will satisfy his or her requirements to the best advantage. So many articles are written, extolling this and that circuit, that it seems pertinent to give a formula by which the merits of each may be judged and possibly rated.

The formula consists of the sum of ten important characteristics divided by the cost in dollars and equals satisfaction per dollar. The characteristics are:

- 1—Quality of reproduction.
- 2—Volume.
- 3—Range (sensitivity).
- 4—Ease of tuning.
- 5—Ease of construction.
- 6—Non-radiating.
- 7—Sharpness of tuning (selectivity).
- 8—Juggleness.
- 9—Small upkeep expense.
- 10—Low cost.

Some of these characteristics can be rated by one who has never seen or heard a radio set, while others need further explanation.

1. Quality of reproduction is given first, for without it a radio set is useless for entertainment. With the proper apparatus and loud speaker or head phones the quality of reproduction is assured. More attention should be given to the apparatus used than the demonstration in the dealer's store, for store demonstrations are usually given under the worst of conditions. If radio had depended on store demonstrations for its growth it would have died of starvation.

The most important piece of apparatus for quality in a radio set, outside of the actual reproducer, is the detector.

Next in importance is the amplification both before (radio frequency) the detector and after (audio frequency) amplification should always be preferred to regeneration because the vacuum tubes and transformers used are performing only one function.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used tion and that at their best operating points.

The audio amplifier depends for its amplification without distortion on the audio frequency transformers which should be those manufactured by transformer and radio engineers and manufacturers and should not have a ratio of transformation greater than 4:1 and should by all means have an air gap in the iron core. Greater ratios than this and closed iron cores produce distortion due to the phenomena of resonance, or greater amplification at some frequencies than others.

2. Volume is obtained by audio frequency amplification and depends for its magnitude on the make of transformer used and the number of stages. Never try more than three stages of audio frequency amplification with well made transformers.

3. The greatest range can be given to a radio receiving set by radio frequency amplification and when three stages are used produces an amplifier such sensitivity that distance stations can be heard loud and clear even on a loop.

4. If a set has easy tuning the novice can get the most out of it; women women can easily tune in the distant stations loud and clear. Ease of tuning depends directly on the number of controls. For this reason a set using a loop should always be preferred because to tune the set only one adjustment is necessary, namely, the condenser.

5. The great majority of the sets in this country today were made at home and ease of construction is therefore a very necessary characteristic. Choose a set consisting of standard parts and wire it according to a good diagram, easily followed.

6. Build a set which won't radiate and annoy your neighbor, but if you do build a radiating type of set learn how to operate it so that the interference to others will be at a minimum.

7. The number of stations you can get on a receiver depends greatly on its selectivity and the amount of interference in your locality. A loop set can't be beat for selectivity and cutting out interference because a loop and a low loss condenser have such low resistance, and a loop has the property of receiving radio in the plane of its direction some hundreds of times easier than in directions at right angles to this plane. Interference at right angles is therefore eliminated.

8. Juggleness is a characteristic usually quite apparent but for safety's sake be sure the parts are obtained by well known companies who are building for the future, and therefore cannot afford to put out an inferior product.

9. The upkeep expense of a radio set depends on the number of tubes used to meet all the other necessary requirements. Sets using a crystal detector and four amplifier tubes draw only half as much current as sets using a soft vacuum tube detector and four amplifying tubes.

10. The first cost of a radio set is the easiest thing to determine as there are thousands of men quite eager to tell you.

Attention to these "commandments" will pay any fan, for they will enable him—or her—not only to select a good set, but one adapted to his or her own particular needs.
